

Five Wise Owls

Five wise old owls
Sat on a barn door,
One flew away
And then there were four.

Four wise old owls
Sat down for tea,
One fell in his cup
And then there were three.

Three wise old owls
Hooted on cue,
One lost his voice
And then there were two.

Two wise old owls
Weren't having any fun,
So one fell asleep
And then there was one.

One wise old owl
In the setting sun,
Flew off to the forest
And then there were none.
